Group Discussion (2025-26)
Report

A Group Discussion (GD) organized by the Commerce Department is an important academic activity that helps students improve their knowledge, communication skills, and confidence. Through group discussions, students get an opportunity to express their ideas, listen to others' opinions, and learn different perspectives on a particular topic. It also develops critical thinking, teamwork, and decision-making abilities among students. Such activities encourage active participation and help students stay updated with current business, economic, and social issues. Overall, group discussions play a vital role in enhancing students' personality development and preparing them for interviews, competitive exams, and professional careers.
